Coach's Name/Comments:

They fought until the very last pitch, but we needed that fire earlier. Our defense was on its heels tonight, and the Raiders didn't hesitate to capitalize on the mistakes we made. We had chances, stranding 10 runners on base and letting momentum slip through our fingers. But even with the game stacked against them, this group showed GRIT, dug in, and refused to go down quietly. They battled to the final out.

There were countless ways these players grew throughout the season, and that growth showed in big moments. But growth can't stop now. We need these players to carry that momentum into the offseason and come back ready to take another step forward next year. A player is never done growing in this ever-changing game we love, and the ones who embrace that truth are the ones who rise to the next level of the game!

So proud of the many ways these players improved this season. We're still chasing that full seven innings of clean, solid softball, and that goal gives us something real to strive for and build toward. The growth is happening, the effort is there, and now it's about pushing to the next level every time we step on the field.
